DETAILED ACTION

DETAILED ACTION

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 103

1. The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

2. Claims 25-31 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Hardt in view of Lloyd and Hardt and Webinger.

Hardt discloses the use of an acoustic horn comprising a tapered structure having a base end(4) and an apex end(3) , a comprising a wall member having a plurality of fold lines defining the edges of a plurality of juxtaposed panels, characterized in that at least two of the fold lines, both the base end and the apex end being open. Hardt also discloses the use of an internal channel (see figure 1) and a tapered structure that has a cross sectional area which increases non linearly and a convergent point of the lines at or near the base end.

Hardt does not disclose a tapered structure being formed from a sheet of foldable material.

Lloyd discloses the use of a horn with foldable material (column 2, lines 65-68).

Hardt and Lloyd do not disclose an arc that form a first non-planar panel bound by fold lines.

Webinger discloses the use of a foldable material with an arc that form a first non-planar panel bound by fold lines (see figure 1).

It would have been obvious to one of ordinary skill in the art at the time the invention was made to modify the horn as taught by Hardt with the foldable material as taught by Lloyd in order to permit sound waves to cling to the horn inner surface and project outwardly there from.

3. Claims 32-48 are objected to as being dependent upon a rejected base claim, but would be allowable if rewritten in independent form including all of the limitations of the base claim and any intervening claims.

Response to Arguments
